

A MATTER OF LIFE OR DEATH

PARENTS STAND UP FOR EU CLEAN AIR LIMITS

Ella was only 9 years old when she succumbed to an asthma attack linked to the illegal levels of air pollution in the United Kingdom. Rosamund Kissi-Debrah, her mother, has since been fighting to have the authorities recognise the role that air pollution played in this tragedy, and launched a campaign for clean air.

As air pollution has no borders, she is convinced that EU clean air policies are a great example of European added value. She comes to Brussels to launch an initiative to defend EU clean air policies against recent attacks from the car industry and the German government.

17:00-17:30 REGISTRATION AND NETWORKING RECEPTION

17:30-17:35 WELCOME

Laura Shields, Moderator - @mediawhizz

17:35-17:40 INTRODUCTION

Zoltán Massay-Kosubek, EPHA Policy Manager - @EU_ZMK • @EPHA_EU

17:40-18:15 ILLEGAL AIR POLLUTION AND THE DEATH OF MY DAUGHTER

Rosamund Kissi-Debrah, mother of Ella Roberta - @rosamund_ElsFdn

Followed by Q&A with the audience

18:15-18:50 TO BREATHE OR NOT TO BREATHE: THE ADDED VALUE OF EU LIMITS AND THE ROLE OF SCIENCE

Anne Stauffer, Director for Strategy and Campaigns, Health and Environment Alliance (HEAL) - @AnneHEAL3 • @HealthandEnv

Joana Cruz, Senior Policy Advisor, EUROCIITIES - @JoanaCr67838764 • @EUROCITIESweet

Followed by Q&A with the audience

18:50-19:00 CLOSING REMARKS

#cleanair4health • cleanair4health.eu

Renaissance Hotel
Rue du Parnasse 19 | 17.00 - 19.00
25 April 2019

